“Every now and then, a libation comes along that is so special, so ahead of the pack that I can’t wait to share my results with Spirits Journal readers...let me introduce you to the best white spirit. Triple distilled; pure as rain water; the opening nosing is seductively fresh and intensely botanical... the nicest thing going about this gin’s bouquet is that the alcohol never for a moment interferes with or overshadows the lovely mix of botanicals... the taste sings with round, svelte flavors of coriander, juniper and bark... a fine, well-made gin by all accounts and one that’s sure to have an impact at the upper echelon level of the category...simply superb.”
